RE: Track Your MoC Progress with New MedicNet Email Updates

We are pleased to announce a new MedicNet feature to help you stay on top of your annual Maintenance of Certification (MoC) requirements. Starting October 31, 2024, you will receive regular email updates throughout the year as you progress through your MoC.

Here's how it works:

Each email will include a summary table showing which MoC requirements you've completed and which are still pending. Updates will arrive as you complete requirements, helping you track your progress. Please note that a brief delay may occur before messages are sent.

Benefits to you:

These notifications keep you informed and engaged, allowing you to complete your requirements on time and maintain a smooth annual re-certification process.

Managing your email preferences:

By default, notifications will be sent to all email addresses listed in your profile. You can control whether you receive these emails and specify which addresses to use. To opt out or make changes, log in to MedicNet, click the dropdown menu beside "My Profile," and select "Communication Preferences." Alternatively, you can access "Communication Preferences" in the Contact section of your profile page.

Additional improvement:

Certification change notifications will now include your current certification status, so you can see any significant changes without logging in. These notifications will also be sent to all email addresses in your profile.

We hope you find these updates helpful.
